Collections

The Zimmerli Art Museum's collections comprise a number of areas of focus and total 50,000 works of art. Particular strengths exist in Russian and Soviet art, French nineteenth-century art and American nineteenth- and twentieth-century art with a concentration on early-twentieth-century and contemporary prints. In addition, the museum houses a research library of rare books, journals and other documents that support the French collection which can be searched from this site.
