

RUTGERS

School of Arts and Sciences

Department of Religion

Students|Faculty|Administrators|

Donors & Friends

▶ Religion Home

▶ Announcements & Events

▶ Faculty Publications

▶ Academics

▶ Departmental Services

▶ Religion Honors Students

▶ Religion Association

▶ Career Opportunities

▶ Find

▶ Publications

▶ School of Arts & Sciences

▶ Rutgers Home

▶ Support Rutgers

▶ FAQs

▶ Contact Us

Welcome to the Department of Religion

The undergraduate department of Religion at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey offers courses in major religious traditions, texts, and related phenomena. The field of religion spans numerous areas: anthropology, sociology, psychology, philosophy, theology, history & literature. As an academic discipline, religious studies coordinates these fields for a comprehensive understanding of phenomena that represent some of the most intricate constructs of the human spirit. The Religion department program at New Brunswick fosters an environment for the impartial analysis & comparison of a wide variety of religious systems.

Search

> Advanced Search

Most Popular

- Departmental Services
- Find
- Major Requirements
- Teaching Resources
- Research Resources

University Portals

Statistics

Members: 4
News: 237
Web Links: 5
Visitors: 59628