

Teaching Assistant Project

The Teaching Assistant Project (TAP) is a multi-tiered initiative designed to promote excellence in undergraduate and graduate education at Rutgers, New Brunswick, through the professional development of the graduate student teaching staff. TAP is, by necessity, a flexible endeavor, working to meet the changing needs of teaching assistants. The fundamental components upon which this project is built include the annual orientation, certificate programs and special issues seminars, web-based publications, and discipline-specific training.

NEW GSNB selected for Carnegie
Foundation program

Calendar[TA
Orientation](#)[Problem
Resolution](#)

Programs

Certificate ProgramsCareer Programs[Introduction to College
Teaching](#)College Teaching II[Master Faculty Observation
Program](#)Peer Observation Program

Teaching with Technology

Reserving Course MaterialsRequest A/V EquipmentEnhanced Classroom Support[Teaching with Technology
Certificate Program](#)RefWorkseCompanionBlackboardSakaiWebCT ToolsPodcasting

Teaching Advice

Academic Integrity[Learning Effective Strategies
for Teaching Undergraduates](#)Mid-Semester EvaluationTeaching LinksTeaching Your Own ClassVoices from the Field

TAP Publications

TA HandbookTAPTalkTeaching & LearningTeaching PortfolioVoices from the Field

Resources

FAQInternational TAsComputing ServicesFAS GradebookGraduate SchoolsGrade Posting PolicyAAUP ContractUniversity PolicyTA VideotapingContact UsTeachingAdvice CDTAVideotaping

© 2007 The Graduate School-New Brunswick.
Last updated: July 27, 2007.

Please send us any questions or comments about this site.