Mason Gross Galleries at Civic Square

Brodsky Center for Innovative Print and Paper

This building is the main hub for the Department of Visual Arts. For more information about the visual arts programs at Mason Gross, click here.

The Civic Square Building in downtown New Brunswick is the primary location for the Visual Arts department. Students have access to large, fully-equipped studios for painting, design, drawing, computer art, and performance art, including production studios for film and video, and darkrooms for photography.

It also houses the Dean's Office for Mason Gross School of the Arts.
